

The Tao of City Cycling

A short course on safe cycling in sustainable cities

Developed by Australia's Inaugural Environmental Educator of the Year, Professor Frank Fisher

This interactive & practical short course, facilitated by some of Melbourne's most experienced commuter cyclists, explores how to move about our city in the most seamless, efficient & sustainable way. For all ages, genders & backgrounds.

Featuring how to cycle safely, dress, carry cargo & kids, secure your bike, gain health & fitness, & create a more cycle-friendly, connected & sustainable society.

Who: Facilitated by Anthony James (Head of OASES), Dr. John Merory (Neurologist), Kathryn Donnelly (formerly of Swinburne Uni's National Centre for Sustainability), MairiAnne Mackenzie (Farmer), Tim Fisher (Journalist & Facilitator) & James Tonson (Coordinator, Understandascope)

When: 5 x Wednesday evenings, from 3 April to 1 May 2013, 6.30-8.30pm

Where: OASES, 2 Minona St, Hawthorn

Investment: $119/$69, inc. light refreshments & participant package

For more info & to register visit www.oases.edu.au/tao

Home of the Understandascope

OASES is a not-for-profit organisation